From Chancellor Kent's Eulogy on the author.

"The American Dictionary of the English Language, is a work of profound investigation, and does infinite hoose to the philological learning and general literature of this country. Happy the man who can thus honorably identify his name with the existence of our vernacular tongue. There is no other way in which mortal man could more effectually secure immurrality beneath the skies. Obelisks, arches, and triumphal monuments seem to be as transient as the bubble of military reputation. No work of art can withstand the incersant strokes of time. The unrivalled Parthenon, glowing in polished marble, and withstand the incresant strokes of time. The unti-valled Parthenon, glowing in polished marble, and which for more than two thousand years continued from the summit of the citadel of Athens to cast its broad splendors across the plains below, and along the coasts and headlands of Attica, is now crumb-ling to ruins, after being despoiled of its most exqui-site materials by savage war and heartless man.— Even the Pyramids of Egypt, whose origin is hidden in the deepest recesses of antiquity, and which have always stood in awe-inspiring solitude and grandeur, are now annoyed by the depredations of curiosity. are now annoyed by the depredations of curiosity, and greatly corroded by the action of the elements, and gradually sinking under the encroaching sands of the desert. This dictionary; and the language and gradually sinking under the encroaching sands of the desert. This dictionary; and the language which it embodies will also perish; but it will not be with the gorgeous palaces. It will go with the solemn tempt s and the great globe itself."

The Publishers of the foregoing work respectfully The Publishers of the foregoing work respectfully smoouuce that they have made arrangements with Mr. F. Taylor, Bookseller, of Washington city, to furnish the American Dictionary, in two large volumes, at the very reduced price of twelve dollars. It is to be understood that for this price the best paper and type, and the best binding, will be supplied—the best copies, that is to say, in all respects. The very valuable supplement, which is contained in no other edition than the present one, should not be passed unnoticed; it contains four thousand words, not given in any other dictionary; was only completed.

MISS HEANEY'S ACADEMY,

I street, opposite President's Square, Washington.

(Between the residences of Mrs. Gen. Macomb and the Hon. John Y. Mason, Secretary of the Navy.)

MISS HEANEY, of Boston, Massachusetts, principal instructress, respectfully gives notice to parents and guardians of her resuming the education of Young Ladies in this city in the former family residence of Col. Bomford, according to her early purposes of educating boarding pupils as a family, with a convenient number of day scholars. Her own personal instruction and care being given to each of the pupils individually in whatever pursuits of learning or accomplishments they may engage. Assistant instructresses will be resident in her family, and exclusively engaged to aid her responsibly as professors in this charge. One of the most skifful in Vocal and Instrumental Music will always be so engaged other professors will attend to give lessons, as may be required, but only with her own attention to her pupils as principal. The many years occupancy of this house by Col. Bomford's family evinces healthness of the situation well; and its spaciousness, pleasant garden, and scenery, makes it the most desirable of the situation well; and its spaciousness, pleasant garden, and scenery, makes it the most desirable dwelling for such students in the vicinity of the Pre-sident's House and the Departments.

MISS HEANEY'S Acadamy being so eligibly placed in the quiet neighborhood of many well-known families, greatly encourages the favor her task bespeaks of parents and guarnians to sustain a permanent institution of the most faithful and liberal instruction. The regulations and order prescribed in it being simply such as are due to secure the entire welfare of daughters under maternal direction at home.

I renge fel PROSPECTUS

Por publishing in the City of Washington, a Den Newspaper, to be called 'THE CONSTITUTION."

THE CONSTITUTION."

THE uncestpred having purchased the materials of The vectator, will issue, on or before the 10th inst. the 'st number of a new paper to be called "The vestator," it will be devoted to the steady advency of that system of measures which will preserv unimpaired the sacred instrument from which w borrow the name; and as constantly oppose whateer is not sanctioned by it. We shall uncessingly oppose a National Bank—a Protective Tariff—Internal Ingrovement by the General Government—a Distribution of the Proceeds of the sales of the Public Lands. Assumption of the State Debts—an abrogation of the Executive Veto, as unconstitutional and inexpedies.

We hope to make the paper worthy of the confidence and support of the Democratic party. It shall be the faithful expositor of the principles, and the ever ready medium to convey heir sentiments and wishes to the public. The Democratic cause, is the cause of iroth and justice. It certs the light. It shuns no investigation. And we re determined to see whether a paper, conducted with a devotion jo the principles, rather than to the west of our party—to further the great cause of human pogress, rather than the mere advancement of particular individuals, will not commend itself to the confidence and favor of thepeople.

As soon as the all engrossing topics of the elections lumns to subjects of general literature and science; endeavoring to present such matter as will amuse, instruct, and edify.

The proceedings of Congress will receive particular attention, and a full and comprehensive summary will be given, including the yeas and nays upon all important questions.

The paper, for the present, will be issued semi-weekly during the recess, and daily during the resions of Congress, at five dollars per annum, in advance.

THE WEEKLY VOLUME, FOR TOWN AND COUNTRY—being a revival of Waidle's Select Circulating Library—will commence on 1st January, 1845, giving weekly sixteen large quartopages, clasely printed, and on fine paper, for four dollars per annum.

"The whole will be printed and finished with the same case and accuracy as book-work. The filty-same case and accuracy as book-work. The fifty-two numbers will form two volumes truly worthy of preservation, of 416 pages each; equal in quality to 1,200 pages, or three volumes of Rees's Cyclopa-dia. Each volume will be accompanied by a title page and index."

Subscriptions to the above will be received by the subscribers, at whose Bookstore a specimen of the work may be seen, and by whom the work will be regularly forwarded, strongly enveloped, to any post office in the United States.
